THE PATH OF LIBERATION. February 19-20, 2011

There are a number of different definitions of tantra from various viewpoints, not all of them necessarily consistent. The White Lotus Tantra (c) system identifies tantra as the practice of connecting with the soul. This heartfelt practice of compassion is done through White Tantra practice or advanced Red Tantric practice (Sacred Sexuality). The White Lotus Tantra (c) system is an eclectic mix of Buddhist, Vedic, and modern tantric practices made readily available to the people of today.

Tantra itself is an amassing of practices and philosophy which is characterized by the use of ritual, by use of the everyday to access Spiritual Bliss emotionally and physically by connecting at a soul-full level.

The Tantric practitioner seeks to use the chi, prana, ki, also called bio-electric-magnetic energy (divine power) that flows through all the universe (including one's own body) to connect to an individual; be it a lover, co-worker, or adversary. This can be both a mystical experience as well as an experienced based in the pleasures of the physical. Learn how to connect with the soul- laying the ground-work for Red Tantra.
